105 Years Old.

Aunt Lucy Gossett, an old colored woman in this city, is able to trace her age to 105 years. She was brought here from Augusta, Georgia, at the age of 24 years, and has lived in this city from that day to this. She is now making a new quilt, cutting her own pieces and threading her needle without the use of glasses.

The old colored woman is of the color that she is 115 years old, but can not trace her age back further than 105 years. Her mind is clear and she has none of the organic weaknesses which usually comes with old age.

The administrator of John Fox, a brakeman of the Louisville and Nashville railroad, who was killed at Rowland, Ky., has been awarded a judgment against the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company for $10,000 damages.

Fulton Gordon, who was tried last week before Judge Thompson in Louisville for the killing of Nixon Brown and his (Gordon's) wife, has been acquitted.

Don M. Dickerson will not succeed Secretary of State Gresham unless the latter's bad health should compel him to resign.

A five dollar farm carbon at Bryan's for two dollars. Good to July 1st.

Horrible.

At Salyersville on last Friday two children of Wesley Row, a daughter aged sixteen years, and son aged six, tried to start a fire by pouring powder on a small coal from a horn containing a pound and a half of powder. The horn was exploded, tearing off one arm of the girl and burning her hair and clothing off. The horn struck the boy in the face, putting out both eyes and burning off his hair and clothing also. They will both die.

Mr. E. B. Busby, baker and confectioner on South Maysville street, died on last Saturday morning from brain trouble. Mr. Busby was an active, hard-working man and had built up a good business. His remains were taken to Lancaster Monday for burial. He leaves a wife and three children who were dependent on him.

The State Conference of the Ladies' Missionary Society of the Methodist Church will convene with the Methodist Church, this city, June 7, 8, 9. Arrangements are being perfected to entertain all the delegates and visitors who may attend.

Rev. J. G. Eubanks, pastor of the Old School Baptist flock of this city, preached at the residence of R. M. Eubanks, as usual, preached a most excellent sermon.

A. BAUM & SON, GROCERS,

21 E. Main St., MT. STERLING.

Mr. J. Green Trimble returned from a business to Memphis, Tenn., on Thursday evening, where he had gone to locate his son, J. Green, Jr., in the wholesale Brokerage and Commission business. This he succeeded in doing to his satisfaction. The style of the firm is Hunter, Trimble & Co. Mr. Trimble reports business looking up along all the lines in that section. In fact the outlook is exceedingly encouraging. Emigrants are coming in large numbers from Iowa, Wisconsin and other northwestern States to look at the lands of the South, and many are buying homes and paying the cash for them. His brother, Mr. Frank Trimble is extensively engaged in the real estate business and in this way Mr. J. Green Trimble was furnished an admirable opportunity to see what was going on in this line.

On Wednesday, June 5th, at the Baptist church, Rev. Everett Gill officiating, Dr. W. R. Thompson will be married to Miss Fannie Powers Reed. After the ceremony Dr. Thompson and wife will leave on the C. & O. West train for Mr. Malcolm Thompson's, Dr. Thompson's father in Scott county, where they will remain a week after which they will return to this city.

The Chicago branch of American Railway Union has taken hand in the strike of the employees of the Illinois Steel Company. It demands an eight-hour day and an increase of fifty cents a day in wages.

I. N. Philps has gone to the mountains in the interest of his book of poems now being published by Jno. P. Martin & Co., and we bespeak for him quite a large subscription, as he is a native of Morgan county, and a great favorite of the people of his native State. At all events he should receive a many subscribers in Morgan as he got here in Mt. Sterling alone, which was about two hundred, and that without ever canvassing a solitary word, a fact which we think speaks well for his popularity with our people. Let us see how Morgan, his native county, will do as well by him as has Montgomery, his adopted county.

Mr. C. Cyrus Turner and Miss Jessie, daughter of Jas. D. Hazelrigg, will be married in the Christian church in this city on Tuesday, June 4th. Mr. Turner and wife will reside in Frankfort, where Mr. Turner is tipstaff of the Court of Appeals.

Bath Circuit Court convened on last Monday. There is a small docket. The case of M. F. Fouch for the killing of George Johnson in Rowan county which is before the Bath Circuit Court on a charge of venue, will in all probability be tried.

Nicaragua has raised by popular subscription the $75,000 due to Great Britain. Raising the money has increased the bitter feeling in Nicaragua against the British, and a boycott of British goods by Central American States is threatened.

There was the largest attendance at the First Presbyterian Sunday School last Sabbath that there has been for a year, and the review of the lesson by Superintendent Chiles was excellent. He is doing his best to make the Sunday School both interesting and profitable. There were good congregations at both the morning and evening services, the pastor preaching two earnest sermons. The attendance at this church has been increasing for the past year.

The cut worms are taking advantage of the cool weather to get in their work on the young corn. They are not neglecting the tobacco plant heads either, but are doing much damage among the growing plants. Whole fields of corn will have to be replanted entire in some sections. Those who have not examined their tobacco beds would better do so at once.

Dr. Ed Dean will be married on the 29th inst. to Miss Emma Donn, of South Bend, Ind. Dr. Dean is one of the leading physicians of this county with a large practice, and Miss Donn is one of the loveliest of women. We are glad to extend congratulations.

Rev. Everett Gill will return from Washington, D. C. this week and will occupy his pulpit at the Baptist church next Sunday morning and evening.

Steering rates on ocean steamers between New York and Europe have been advanced from $10 to $15.

Hard News.

Mr. W. S. Cockrell, trustee of the jury fund, desires us to notify the members of the grand and petit juries of the last term of the Montgomery Circuit Court that he is in receipt of information from Auditor Norman to the effect that there is no money on hand to pay such claims against the State and he cannot say when there will be.

Mr. James L. Turtle, of Versailles, and Miss Willie Graves, daughter of Robert Graves, of Lexington, were married on last Wednesday and passed through here the same day en route for Virginia, where they will spend several days. Miss Graves is well known here where she has relatives.

Mrs. Fenton Dean Bigstaff, of Flat Creek, aged 52 years, is a remarkable woman for one of her age. She is enjoying excellent health and her mind is unclouded and she is as bright as a new dollar.

The cut worm continues to get in his work on the growing crops.

Fine Cols.

Should any one want to see some fine lookers by Knighthood, let them go to J. M. Bigstaff, W. W. Thompson, John Wilson and any others that have foals by this horse. They are all fine and very much alike. All these men are sending back to him from three to six mares each.

Mrs. Josie Peed died at her home in Clark county on last Saturday aged about 35 years. The funeral was preached Sunday by Elder H. D. Clark, of this city. Mrs. Peed will be remembered as Miss Josie Bailey. She was one of the purest and best women of our knowledge, was an active, working member of the Baptist church, and in all her life work she went about scattering seeds of kindness. Her taking off will be a heavy loss to her family and circle of friends.

Miss Annie Kelly gave a hop to her pupils at the old Y. M. C. A. Rooms last Thursday evening. It was a very enjoyable affair.

Special.

For the special accommodation of ladies without escorts, arrangements have been made to sell tickets at Lloyd's drugstore for the Great Wallace Show during the day of exhibition, Friday, May 17.

Mr. J. D. Wilson was in our office Thursday exhibiting a bunch of alfalfa to some gentlemen. Mr. Wilson said he had failed to induce stock here to eat it. He had gone to livery stables when the horses were being fed on dry food, but had failed to get them to take hold of it. Naturally he does not think much of it as a food for stock.

As a result of meetings held at Huntington, West Va., by Rev. Schoolfield, all places of business have been closed on Sunday. The Mayor issued an order forbidding the sale of the Sunday newspaper.

First Know You are Right. Then Go Ahead.

On the money question at this particular time our greatest minds are at work to solve the problem and to bring to the people such legislation as will be for their best interests. We have found many men who are confident that they have formulated the needed legislation, and that there is no mistake about it. Yet among these great men there are differences of opinion, and while we are willing to give the result of thought and research from great men, we shall withhold any opinion we may now have until we are sure we have the theory which will relieve our present financial needs, and which will, at the same time, maintain our credit with foreign countries.

For the thoughtful reader, one who takes nothing for granted, and who is willing to read, think and arrive at his own conclusions, we append the following article on silver and the laborer from the pen of Lawrence Laughlin, Professor of Political Economy, University of Chicago:

"The withdrawal of permission to coin silver dollar pieces in 1873 one would not think could stop all productions. As money is a means of exchanging goods already produced, it is hard to realize how a matter of exchange can affect all production. But 'Coin' has made the discovery! He says the act of 1873 was a crime because it has made thousands paupers. A crime because it has brought tears to strong men's eyes, and hunger and pinching want to widows and orphans. A crime, because it is destroying the honest economy of the land, the bulwark of the nation." (p. 112.) In short, the laboring class are ground down by the act of 1873, according to 'Coin.' Again let us confront 'Coin's' statements with the facts and it can be seen once more how utterly untrustworthy he is.

"The Senate report on 'Wholesale Prices and Wages' (vol. 1 p. 177) says: Wages reached a high point in the years 1871-1872. After 1873 there was a marked falling off. The ground then lost was gradually regained until to-day wages are about the same point as they were in 1871-1872. 'Coin' must have overlooked this point. But he was probably too much engaged in arranging for his triumph procession to the hotel to look up the facts correctly. So it will be well to get this matter perfectly clear before the public. Taking 100 as the basis in 1860, the Senate report (vol. 1, p. 170) gives the wages reduced to gold, relatively to 100 in the years from 1840 to 1891, using two different methods.

"The fact that this table goes back to 1840 allows us to call the attention to the verification of an economic truth that in times of paper inflation wages do not go up as rapidly as the paper depreciates. Hence the gold value of wages. In the years 1863-1865 fell in a striking way. And if laborers are ever approached by men who advocate more money as a benefit to them, let them appeal to the period of too much money in the paper issues of the civil war as resulting in a reduction of their wages. The reason of it is plain enough; a rate of wages gets customary, when expressed in dollars, as, for instance, $2 a day without regard to what can be bought by the $2. Then, if the money gets cheaper and the prices go up, it is a long time before the laborer can convince his employer that he should raise his wages.

"Prices of the goods go up quickly enough, while his wages lag. And just here is the reason the laborer does not care to see free coinage of silver, because by free coinage the prices of the laborer's goods would go up to double what they are now. But under the present situation the laborer has been gaining. He has no interest in seeing prices go up. And yet 'Coin' is constantly lamenting that prices have fallen since 1873. Does he think it a crime if workmen can thereby buy more than in 1873? Why does he lament at something which is of decided advantage to the laborer?

"In brief, of compared with gold a laborer could command in wages more in 1891 than in 1873, for every $148.3 he got in 1873 he gets $160.7 in 1891. But the laborer is mainly concerned with how much his wages will buy. In 1891 he gets more gold for his day's work than in 1873, but of still more importance to him is the fact that his money buys more food and comforts. So far as goods have fallen while wages have risen he gains doubly.

Food fell nearly 10 per cent, since 1863, clothing 32.2 per cent, full 23.7 per cent, metals 35 per cent, lumber nearly 20 per cent, drugs 31 per cent, housefurnishing goods 27 per cent, and miscellaneous articles 10 per cent. This indicates the gain to the laborer, but not the whole gain, for not only have all the goods he buys fallen in these percentages, but his money wages have risen since 1873 by 8 per cent. The free silver advocates have nothing to offer the workingman.

On the contrary, the panic of 1893, which threw so many persons out of employment these past two years and from which we are just recovering, was caused by the legislation that threatened to bring in the single standard.

Secretary Carlisle authorizes the announcement that he will speak at Covington next Monday, May 20; at Bowling Green Saturday, May 25, and at Louisville Tuesday evening, May 28. On the 23d he will be present, as previously announced, at the sound money conference at Memphis. The people of Kentucky will be glad of these opportunities to hear Mr. Carlisle on the issue which is now absorbing attention in the State, and there is no man to whom they would accord a more respectable hearing.

Bradstreet's weekly review of trade says that there are "distinct and in some instances more pronounced evidences of improvement in business, notwithstanding the increase of the wave of industrial discontent and strikes for higher wages, always the accompaniment of an upward tendency to prices."

The pay rolls of the Cincinnati carriage manufacturers are 20 to 35 per cent above those of a year ago. The Cincinnati Iron and Forge Company and the Queen City Forging Company advanced wages 15 per cent. The Oliver Iron and Steel Company, of Pittsburg, advanced wages 10 per cent, as did also the Carrie furnace, at Pittsburg.

An encouraging feature of the industrial situation is a renewed foreign demand for American railway securities at advanced prices. The buying will remove the danger of gold exports and will turn the flow of gold toward this country.

The legislative races are becoming interesting and will be more so as soon as the people have become firm in their convictions on the monetary question. The people can have an expression on this subject only in the choosing of a representative.

The free silver meeting at the Court House on last Saturday afternoon was thinly attended. The people are not decided on the monetary question yet, and do not propose to rush into it until they know what they are doing.

Knighthood 4186, Record 2-23 12.

Five years ago this horse was purchased as a 2-year-old from Gen. W. T. Withers, of Lexington, one of the most noted breeders of the trotting horse in America.

Knighthood (by Gen. Withers' books) was the fastest two-year-old with one exception at his entire lot of forty head. He was one of the choicest bred, also being by Aberdeen, son of Hambletonian 10, out of Widow McGree 2:29. His dam by Alamo (son of Almont, son of the great Abdallah 15) (the greatest "breeding" son of Hambletonian). Knighthood's grand dam is the noted Queen Idaho (dam of Red Wilkes, the greatest Wilkes horse and the leading sire of the world, having over 200 sons and daughters in the 2:30 list). Knighthood's record, 2:29, was never a limit of his speed. He has repeatedly trotted better than 2:20 and has shown a 2:10 gait. Had he been in the hands of an expert on a good mile track he would have to-day a mark of 2:15, or better. In color, conformation, style, speed, stamina and age he stands without an equal in Eastern Kentucky. Being bred to Hambletonian 10, he has the ability to transmit his good qualities and get from a mixed lot of mares a uniform lot of colts. His foals are fine lookers, have heavy muscles and tall; are useful general-purpose horses and are good sellers. He makes the season of 1895 at Beau Bro's, establishment at the Middletonville low fee of $10 for five foal and $2.00 groom fee.

Mr. Moecky also tells that he is in partnership with Geo. Ballard, has built a park and will extensively engage in raising poultry. This is a novel idea but we see no reason why it will not be a paying business.

The past week has been favorable to all farm work, also to all vegetation. Cut worms are doing a good deal of damage to corn, gardens and some tobacco beds. A good many fields of corn have to be replanted. The frosts on Sunday night did some damage to gardens, especially on low ground.

Monthly Crop Report.

The reports of the statistical correspondents to the Advocate for this month have been unusually large, and from those returns I am justifiable in saying that the condition of all crops has advanced very greatly since the last report. The weather has been favorable for grain and grasses of all kinds, and for all kinds of farm work, and the farmer is well advanced in spring work. The prospect for better prices are much better than last season; quite a number of farmers have engaged their wheat at threshing time at 50 cents per bushel, but many others are holding out, and from present prices they have good prospects for realizing more money. The report for wheat one month ago was 90; to-day it stands at 96 per cent, an advance of 6 points. There are many diseases, however, to which it is liable in the next thirty days. The time for the fly to show itself and for rust to strike it, is just before ripening or just before harvest. I will quote the remarks from different parts of the State. From the county of Christian Dr. Clardy writes: "Hail good rains; prospect for good crop seldom seemed better; elegant stand of young clover; was a partial failure last year; some trouble from worms; not serious here yet." From the county of Carroll: "All farm prospects are 100 per cent compared to 1894." From the county of Caldwell: "Wheat looks well; tobacco beds never looked better; cut worms very bad; some early corn will have to be planted over." From the county of Campbell: "Wheat and other grain have come out wonderfully since the last report; fields that looked bare months ago look like they will make large yields." From the county of Woodford: "Wheat, barley and oats excellent growth; young clover splendid catch." The Hon. C. L. Searcy, of Madison county, writes: "Prospects good for all kinds of crops; farmers feeling good." From the county of Harrison: "Wheat rank and of fine color; alfalfa spotted." From the county of Union: "Farmers all happy; corn is being put in rapidly; ground in good condition; weather fine and prospects for good crops here never better."

The reports on rye are not so full as wheat—nearly every county reporting as to the latter. The average being several points under that of wheat. Being raised principally for pasture is usually grazed very hard through the winter, consequently it does not look as well as wheat at this time of year. The condition is placed at 93 per cent.

BARLEY.
The condition of barley is placed at 91.5.
MEADOW MOWING LANDS.
Have improved wonderfully since last report. Most correspondents place the condition at 100; some considerably over that, but a few, however, make very low reports, which brings the average down. I take it from the general tone of the correspondents, that there will be a good hay crop. The condition is 92 per cent.

CLOVER.
As well as hemp, oats and tobacco, clover is suffering from the ravages of "cut worms" and "army worms." I could quote the reports from a large number of correspondents, not confined to any particular locality, all complaining of the cut worm and army worm. In a number of counties whole fields of clover have been destroyed by them, and the early planted corn will have to be planted again. Some of the farmers who have escaped them are happy and the others despondent. The condition of clover is placed at 86 per cent.

PASTURE.
Which includes blue grass and all kinds of grazing lands, are very short for this time of year—have not made growth until the past ten or fifteen days. The per cent is placed at 87.

OATS.
Over at average crop has been sown, and where the worms have not infested it is looking well. The condition is 94 per cent.

TABACCO.
Some correspondents write that so much destruction has been done to the beds by the worms that there will not be a full crop planted. The acreage is placed at 92 per cent.

HEMP.
The average acreage of hemp is placed at 92 per cent.

HOGS.
There has been a gain in hog stock the last report. The last was 90 per cent. The per cent to-day is placed at 98.

CATTLE.
The returns still show a shortage of cattle, which is entirely due to the hard winter and the scarcity of winter feed. The returns show an increase of 2 points since last report. The per cent for this month is placed at 81.

SHEEP.
The figures from correspondents show a marked shortage of sheep. Quite a number contribute it to the low prices of sheep and wool. The winter has been very severe on lambs. The per cent is placed at 79.

MULES.
The very low price of mules has caused the farmer to neglect them, which has decreased the comparative number. The per cent is placed at 89.

HORSES.
The number of horses is well maintained. The per cent is placed at 95.

FRUIT.
The correspondents report an abundant crop of all kinds of fruit except peaches, cherries and plums.

Ways of the Woodpecker.

Among all our bird species there are few more interesting than the different woodpeckers that live with us all the year round. They can be recognized at once by their stiff tails and the way they stick to tree trunks, and the length of the wings. To our forest and fruit trees they are one of nature's greatest safeguards, and it is only in ignorance that the agriculturists kill them. Sordid man finds a market for their beautiful plumage on the bonnets and hats of women. These birds have a wonderfully sharp beak, with which to hammer through bark and timber until the tunnel of some tree borer is struck and then their long tongues, with an end like a dushook, search around and capture the destroying grub. Their nests are made, as a rule, in decaying trees, where the bird digs out an entrance and then a basement. There is no need of any building for the nest. The small chips of wood from a warm bed for the eggs and the clamorous youngsters. Year after year, the birds generally delve out another nest, for the reason that the bluebird and that far worse robber, the English sparrow, usurps the old homestead, and I am sorry to say, the wren is also a robber. The flicker or golden-winged woodpecker, also known as the highcock, claps, and certainly a noisy bird, is one of our best known woodpeckers. It makes its nest everywhere; in tall trees, in the wooden towers of churches, and I have found its nest on the top of an iced house, and trying to learn something more by nesting in the cupola of a well known university. I saw one of these birds, evidently a crazy bachelor, trying to flirt with a goldfinch. He bowed and scraped and flirted with his tail, and the small bird on a neighboring tree looked on in the most amused way, and was undoubtedly flattered, but she flew away and the flicker went to work and unwooded a grub.

After July, when the breeding season is over, there are no more frolicsome birds than these. I have seen them playing as good a game of "tag" among themselves as I ever saw among the irresponsible boys just out of school. The young of these birds never cease in their clamors for food, and even when they have left their hole-nest they are fed by the parent birds.

The feeding process is a strange one. The old one half loses its long bill down the throat of the youngster, and from its crop gives up a sufficient supply of half-digested food just for a short time.

The courtship of these birds is exquisitely quaint. They begin with a waltz quite of their own creation, and facing each other, touch beaks; then, after going through various figures, cross beaks, and the dance is over, all done with lowered and spreading tails.

The downy woodpecker is particularly fond of apple trees, and though popularly supposed to be an enemy of the orchard, is in reality, one of its greatest friends. They tunnel for the worms, and it has been conclusively proved that trees drilled with their holes have long outlived in usefulness the trees unvisited by these birds. "I could almost wish that the shooters of the birds, the taxidermists who prepare their plumage, might share the penalty of the ancient mariner who shot the albatross."—Olivia Thorne Miller, in New York Tribune.

Studies in the Upper Air.

From a lecture delivered by A. Lawrence Reich before the Boston Scientific School, a few weeks ago, and reported in the Boston Commonwealth, we make these extracts:

The chemical constitution of our atmosphere was long ago determined, and although the new element Argon has lately been found in it, yet the inertness of this constituent renders it of no chemical and of little physical importance. Aerons and mountain-crocodiles used to collect samples of air at high altitudes for analysis, but we now know that the composition of the atmosphere is everywhere the same, except for the admixture of more or less carbonic acid gas, aqueous vapor and other impurities. We know, too, theoretically, that with a constant temperature its pressure would be halved for each 5 1/2 miles of ascent, and practically in the actual case of temperature decreasing with altitude at the rate of about 1 1/2 degrees Fahr. per mile, the diminution of pressure is still more rapid, while to the limit of the atmosphere the temperature must be very low—far below any temperature on earth. Regarding this limit we have only indirect evidence, such as its reflection of the light of the sun when that luminosity is below the horizon and the redness which causes meteors to be so luminous on entering it. The height of the atmosphere calculated from these data varies from 45 to 100 miles, and if we accept the hypothesis that the aurora is an electrical discharge within a very tenuous atmosphere, we must consider this to extend several hundred miles above the earth. The kinetic theory of gases, however, affords evidence that the molecules of oxygen and nitrogen in the atmosphere do escape from the region of the earth's attraction, and that, therefore, inter-planetary space is not filled with an extremely rarefied gas.

One of the greatest drawbacks to a full understanding of meteorological phenomena is that the observations on which we base our knowledge are generally made close to the ground in the most restricted atmosphere. The general atmospheric movements, both in velocity and direction, are modified in the lower strata, and the air surrounding and in contact with the earth differs greatly, both in temperature and humidity, from the free air. The more strongly agitated upper strata react on the lower in many ways, and a knowledge of the movement of the moderately high atmospheric layers is of great importance for the theory of a general circulation of the atmosphere, and practically for our weather forecasts, since the forces which develop storms have their origin and sphere of action within two or three miles of the earth.

If the atmosphere was only in complete equilibrium, then the few irregular observations, as regards time and place, would give some data on which to base general laws; but, in the actual condition of continual movements and changes in the atmosphere, this can never suffice, and continuous observation of all the atmospheric elements, at all seasons and in all weathers, can only be made on mountains, even though the conditions there only approximate to those of the free air. In this way observations on mountains complete those of the usual low-level stations. When the average of elevation above the sea—that is to say the numerous in the upper strata—is almost entirely neutralized, because then our instruments are placed in air masses, which are affected by contact with the earth. For this reason meteorological observations should be located on high and isolated peaks. The erection of such stations and the discussion of observations during the last fifteen years have contributed to the rapid progress of the science of meteorology.

C. E. NOTES.

Every Christian Endeavor should read the "Model Committee Reports" in the Golden Rule for May 9. They are full of good suggestions.

The Chaplain of the State Prison at Frankfort reports that one hundred members of the prison society participated in an uplifting sunrise service on Easter morning, the cells having been unlocked for this service. Many souls were touched by the exercises.

Do not forget that the State Convention meets at Louisville, May 24-26. There will be an informal meeting Thursday evening May 23.

The Blue Grass excursion will leave Lexington over the L. & N. railroad at 1:55 p. m., May 23. One fare for the round trip. Parties leaving here on the 10 a. m. train can join this excursion. All who expect to do so should notify at once Dr. Howard VanAntwerp, of this city, or Mr. J. C. Taylor, Lexington.

All delegates should send their names to Miss Lucie Shaffer, 205 New Broadway, Louisville, in order that they may be assigned for free entertainment.

The Endeavor meeting of the First Presbyterian Church, Sunday night, was led by the pastor, at which the following suggestions were made as to how Endeavors can help their church:

By being present at every service of the church.

By taking part in the services heartily. For the preaching services joining in the singing; for the Sabbath school joining in the responsive reading, the singing and the lesson review; for the prayer meeting, having a verse to read or quote or some thought on the subject; for the C. E. meeting, keeping faithfully the pledge. Read it.

By preparing beforehand, by earnest prayer for God's help and blessing and by careful study of the lesson and subjects assigned.

By trying to bring others and making the meeting so interesting that they will want to come again.

Above all, by being true to the Lord Jesus Christ.

Louisville Tobacco Market.

Sales on our market for the week just closed amount to 3,210 hids, with receipts for the same period 2,882 hids. Sales on our market since January 1 amount to 76,834 hids. Sales of the crop of 1894 on our market to date amount to 79,798 hids.

The market for good to fine burleys and also all color grades in fair order and has been higher this week than any time during the season. Common sorts are about as they have been. The sweating season is now at hand and all shippers should be careful, as regards order as tobacco in very fine order is being neglected.

The following quotations fairly represent our market for burley tobacco. (1894 crop.)

Trash. (Dark or damaged tobacco) $1.50 to $2.75.

Common coty trash, $3.00 to $3.75

Medium to good coty trash, $3.75 to $5.50.

Common lugs, not coty trash, $2.50 to $4.00.

Common coty lugs, $4.50 to $5.50.

Medium to good coty lugs, $5.50 to $8.50.

Common to medium leaf $6.00 to $10.00.

Medium to good leaf, $10 to $15.00.

Good to leaf, $15 to $18.

Select wrappery leaf, $18 to $23.00.

HORSE AND TRACK.

Monroe Salisbury will start East with his stable about May 20.

Rosalind Wilkes 2:14 has foaled a bay colt by Baron Rose, son of Stamboul 2:07½.

Budd Doble is now at Terre Haute preparing his horses for their campaign in 1891.

May Homer, 2:18½, by Homer changed hands in Europe recently, $7,600 being paid for her.

Angelina, the dam of Ouline 2:04 and Oultonian 2:07½ has foaled a colt to those two great performers.

Rubenstein 2:08 can pace fast enough this spring to justify the belief that he will give any pacer a race when he is ready to start.

John Green, Dublin, Cal., has decided to breed Stewindler, dam of Directum 2:04½, and her daughter Electrica, 2:30 to Direct again.

W. Andrews has shipped his stable of horses from Jewettville, N. Y., to Philadelphia. He has the paces Masscot 2:04, Whirligig 2:10 and Stately 5:18.

The matter in regard to trials at the Lexington Fair, for 1895 has been finally settled, and the decision at a meeting of the directors last week was that no trotting races would be had.

There are four horses who have as many as twenty pacers in the list. Sidney is first with twenty-two; Alcantara second with twenty-one; Gambetta Wilkes also second with twenty-one, and Red Wilkes third with twenty. These horses are all trotting-bred, which goes to show how many trotting-bred pacers are being developed.

At a public sale of saddle horses in New York recently at which good prices were a feature, a galloped horse having a long tail brought the highest prices of the sale. It is to be hoped this occurrence is a sign that the dock-tailed English walk-trot and canter-saddlers are being relegated to second place, where they belong, when compared with the graceful American saddle-gallop horses.

A writer gives the following method of dealing with a puller: For a puller, or one that has a habit of hauling hard on the bit, start him slowly with loose rein, talk coaxingly to him to keep him going slowly as long as you can. When his pace gets too fast, pull him in gently, whether you have gone a rod or a mile, but never hold him with a heavy hand while driving, for the harder he is held the more he will pull. If he is restive and nervous at being hitched up and is a hurry to go, back him out and then in two or three times, then tie and let him stand an hour or two, then drive to the door and tie, leaving him awhile, then drive back to the stable and take him out.

Rev. Charles F. Nash, editor of the Kentucky Baptist at Louisville, Ky., was in trouble at the Washington Baptist Convention and was put under peace bonds because he threatened to whip a man who had loaned him $200 in Kentucky some years ago, and who sued him for the money.

Mr. Nash is well-known in this city, and the facts as we gather them in regard to this unfortunate affair are about these:

Some three years ago Mr. Nash borrowed from a man named Barton at Falmouth $200. Mr. Nash had not paid the debt; in fact, knowing that the Kentucky Baptist went into the hands of a receiver, we conclude that he had not been in a position to meet the obligation, and Mr. Barton instead of bringing his suit against him in Louisville, as he should have done, sought to humiliate Mr. Nash by bringing suit against him before strangers and while he was attending a great gathering with representative Baptists. Such a course outraged the preacher and because he proposed to hold Barton to a strict personal account he got enraged and swore out a peace warrant. Mr. Nash should not have threatened to have loked Barton, neither should Barton have become frightened.

Their are thirty-five or forty pikes and the fine for each is from $10 to $50. Seen will come up before the next term of Circuit Court.—Kentuckian Citizen.

WAGES ADVANCING.

New Signs of Prosperity All Over the Country.

Important additions are being made to the list of voluntary advances of wages by manufacturers. Almost every day reports new advances.

B. S. Stevens, manufacturer of woollens at Quinebaug, Conn.; increase of 15 per cent.; 200 employees affected.

The Slater Woollen Company, of Webster, Mass. An increase has been ordered by the same company in its cambric mills at East Webster. In both mills 1,500 employees are benefited.

John Chase & Sons, manufacturers of cassimere at Webster, Mass., have increased the wages of their operatives by 10 per cent.

Vassalburgh Woollen Mills, near Augusta, Me.; increase of 10 per cent.

Burke Holl Company, Rowley, Mass., increase of 10 per cent.

Weybosset Woollen Mills, Olneyville, R. I., wages increased in certain departments.

Dyerville Manufacturing Company, Dyerville, R. I., increase of 5 per cent. That these voluntary increases of wages indicate an improvement in business and a general return of prosperity is generally admitted. But the newspaper comments on the subject exhibit wide difference of opinion with regard to the connection between this upward tendency of wages and the new tariff. Some claim that the new tariff is to be credited with direct beneficial influence on the labor market, while others contend that the improvements have taken place in spite of the tariff, not because of it.

Your Physical Condition
Needs attention at this time. If you are tired, weak and nervous, it is clear that your blood is impure, and without doubt there has been too much overwork or strain on brain and body. The course of treatment for such a condition is plain and simple. The blood must first be purified so that the nervous system, and in fact all the organs will feed upon pure blood. Intelligent people without number have testified that the best blood purifier, nerve tonic and strength imparting medicine is Hood's Sarsaparilla. Nervousness, loss of sleep and general debility all vanish when Hood's Sarsaparilla is persistently taken. In a word, health and happiness follow after taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. 42-1t.

Big Cattle Shipment.
The one hundred and fifty-three fat cattle sold by Mr. J. C. Caldwell to Sam Embury, agent for Nelson Morris, were shipped Friday morning by special train to Boston, Mass. They occupied nine freight cars, and attracted quite a number of persons to the freight depot to see them loaded. It was one of the best looking bunches of fancy beefs that ever left Boyle county. They averaged 1,425 pounds (live head) and the scrap of paper that was turned over to Mr. Caldwell, by Mr. Embury, in exchange for them, was worth just $11,668 61, the cattle having been sold at $4.35 per hundred pounds.—Danville Advocate.

An Old Will Found.
Some time ago, Dr. Algeron Sidney Allen, formerly of this county, died at his home in Lexington. He left no children and Dr. Chilton, of this city, and the latter's sister were the nearest kin and heirs to that part of his property that was not inherited by the dead man's wife. Not long ago Deputy County Clerk Fox, while looking through some musty old papers, found a will signed by Dr. Allen dated 1860 and witnessed by Gen. M. Jackson and Will P. Wlian, who were at that time deputy clerks in the office, which bequeathed all of his property to his wife without reservation.—Winchester Sun.

Cut Worms.
Cut worms are fearfully bad in some parts of this and adjoining counties. They have made a clean sweep of some tobacco beds and it is too late to repair the loss.—Lexington Gazette.
